Reinterpreting the logotype

The core task of this rebranding project was to work within the strict branding guidelines of the Global Gateway initiative and the European Commission. The objective was to develop a visual identity that is distinct and memorable, while fully respecting these requirements.

We approached this not as a limitation, but as an opportunity. Rather than introducing a new logo, we designed a flexible visual universe that conveys the project's core identity, geosciences, partnership, and African heritage, and translates it into a coherent and impactful design system.
